

Cloud-based Collaboration from
Design to Proof:
GMG CoZone

Visibility and Control: Walking through the approval process with ease

GMG CoZone is a cloud-based web portal for effective collaboration in media production. No matter if it's images, multi-page files, websites or even movies, GMG CoZone provides the proofing and approval processes you need, with maximum clarity and optimized communication flows.

GMG CoZone combines agility with security

When technically proficient media professionals communicate with process partners – individuals who might be responsible for content, creative elements, or graphic design – there is a need for an environment in which everyone involved can feel at home quickly without having to undergo training. GMG CoZone offers all functions needed to proof, comment, and approve material in a safe and secure environment.

GMG CoZone – the online platform for all stakeholders in media production

Thanks to tools such as 'select and mark text', 'free-form drawing', and 'comments', it is easy to add precise comments and suggested corrections at the click of a button. With the possibility to compare different versions of a document side-by-side or on top of each other, changes can be quickly identified and reviewed.

To streamline the approval process, different roles and permissions can be defined for each project team on a case-by-case basis. In whatever way a project is to be managed and coordinated, GMG CoZone can replicate almost any conceivable process structure.

For optimal and practical evaluation of color on screen, GMG provides user-friendly features and functionality to ensure color accuracy: with an embedded profile, it is possible to display accurate color values directly in the browser using any calibrated monitor. Paper tints can be added to see how the design looks on the production substrate.

To professionally conclude any project with contract proofs, the seamless integration of GMG ColorProof provides a highly convenient remote proofing option. Legally binding hardcopy proofs on certified GMG paper are thus immediately available at practically every production site around the world.

Designed to facilitate collaboration between production teams of varying sizes, a GMG CoZone account can be set up for any number of users and user groups. The subscription plans are not related to the number of users but to the upload volume, so customers only pay for what they actually use.

- Review and approve digital content synchronized with all stakeholders
- See how your colors look when printed in a softproof view
- Print a contract proof with one simple click of a button